It's Been a Rugged Week In Capital

Everyone, It Seems, Wants to Visit President

By ED CREAGH

(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman flies off to Key West today and peace, of a sort, descends on the White House.

The White House can use some peace. It's been a rugged week.

There's a last-day-of-school atmosphere in the executive offices every time the president goes away. This time it was worse than usual. The president's going to be gone three weeks and everybody and his brother wanted to get in a last word.

MOST OF THEM succeeded, too. The White House lobby looked for a while like Grand Central station, New York, with the Shriners leaving and the American Legion just getting into town.

You should have been here. You'd have enjoyed it.

WAITING TO SEE Truman at one time were Girl Scouts, Socialists, Negro leaders, half the population of Detroit (well, it seemed like half, anyway), Legionnaires with Buddy poppies, and a few quiet types who turned out to be government officials.

BY ANYBODY'S way of looking at it, the Girl Scouts were the cutest.

They skipped into Truman's office in due course, attended by some well-groomed lady scouts, and the president gave them a big hello and made a nice speech about Girl Scouts, and pretty soon they skipped out again, grinning like baby foxes.

THEN THE NEGRO leaders, a dozen of them, came and went. They were very serious, bent on getting a strong new anti-discrimination policy. Truman was sympathetic, they reported—said he was doing everything he could.

BY THIS TIME the White House lobby, with the huge round mahogany table in the center, was jumping. People were trickling out. The well-guarded double doors, more people were flooding in.

MICHIGAN ARRIVED, almost in a body—big, boyish Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Sen. Homer Ferguson, a delegation of eminent Detroiters. They wanted the president to come out and make a speech on Detroit's 250th anniversary. He said he certainly would if he could.

NORMAN THOMAS dropped in. He's been running for the presidency on the Socialist ticket since late in the middle ages. He visits the White House now and then as if to show there are no hard feelings.

BACKED INTO A CORNER between a brass floor lamp and an ashtray, one reporter looked over the confusion in the lobby and delivered a three-word verdict: "Democracy in action."

He wasn't kidding, either.

New Ambassador

CANBERRA, AUSTRALIA. (P)—Percy Claude Spencer, minister of external affairs (foreign minister), today was appointed Australian ambassador to Washington.

The appointment was announced by Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies. Spencer succeeds Norman J. O. Makin.

Plane Crashes in Iowa Snowstorm, Report 15 Dead

Nine Others Live as DC-3 Dives in Field

Craft Piles Up In Landing At Sioux City

SIoux CITY, Ia.—(AP)—A Mid-Continent Airline plane crashed and burped in a snow storm here today and 15 persons were reported killed.

The DC-3 went down in a cornfield north of the airport as it was coming in for a landing shortly after 9 a. m. (CST).

A Sioux City Journal-Tribune reporter said 15 persons, including the pilot and co-pilot were killed. At least nine others were reported 'survived.'

The Mid-Continent office in Kansas City identified the pilot as Capt. James Graham, of Kansas City, and the co-pilot as Philip K. Toler, of Mission, Kan.

Witnesses said visibility was fair as the two-engine plane, en route from Kansas City to Minneapolis, came in for a landing. But a sudden snow squall blotted out the plane just before the crash.

Dale Olson, electrician at the air base, one of the first to reach the burning plane, said he found a man and a soldier walking around dazedly near the plane. Olson said he and the soldier pulled the pilot and co-pilot from the plane, both badly burned and dead.

It was the first fatal crash for Mid-Continent Airlines in its 17 year history. Bert Blackstock, of Omaha, reported. It was the second crackup, however, this week for the company.

Last Tuesday, 29 passengers and the crew of four walked away from one of Mid-Continent's airliners just before the craft was enveloped in flames after crashing at Tulsa, Okla. Six were injured, but none critically.

The Mid-Continent at Kansas City identified other crew members as Miss Marilyn Woodbury, of Kansas City, hostess, and Ernest F. Elliott, of Overland Park, Kan., a pilot who was to be stationed here.

Physicals for 30 County Men

Thirty Lee county youths left Dixon today for Chicago, Selective Service headquarters and preliminary physical examinations.

Mrs. Carrie Root, clerk of the Lee county draft board, said only a few in the contingent were 20-year-olds, with the remainder being older.

Another draft of 30 men is scheduled to leave Dixon March 7 for induction into the army.

Norway OK's Pact

OSLO, NORWAY. (AP)—Full approval of the government proposal that Norway contribute to the Atlantic pact defense army was voiced last night by the foreign policy and military committees of the Storting (parliament).

Prince, the Unsociable Lion, Tries to Kill Second Tigress

DETROIT, (AP)—Prince, the unsociable lion is at it again. Last night he tried to kill a second tigress—Rosie—in Clyde Beatty's Shrine circus animal show.

Rosie was bitten up but penicillin is expected to save her. Prince, Rosie and other assorted lions and tigers came to town Feb. 19 with Beatty's fame wild animal act.

On opening night a tiger named Sheba, valued at $10,000, was attacked and killed by Prince. Last night the big cats had just

Drive Ends With Organ for Scarboro Church

THE NEW ORGAN recently purchased for the Scarboro Evangelical U. B. church is inspected by members of the Ladies Aid circle who raised the money to buy it. The organ will be dedicated at services Sunday. Shown standing left to right are Mrs. John Grove, Ladies Aid president; Mrs. M. L. Evans, circle vice president; Mrs. Fred Durin, organ committee; Dorothy Sorenson, junior past president of the circle, and Mrs. Lucian Rees, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Carey White, circle president and church organist, is seated at the keyboard.

SCARBORO—Music from a new electric organ will fill the Scarboro Evangelical U. B. church Sunday. The organ was purchased Feb. 14 with proceeds gained after two years' work by the Ladies Aid circle.

Suppers, bake sales, luncheons, all brought in funds for the new organ. Also voluntary donations of $115 went for the purchase. The women had to raise $1,200 for the purchase of the instrument.

The Rev. Merlin L. Shafer will conduct the services Sunday when the organ is dedicated. It is a two manual spinet model. Mrs. Carey White, president of the circle, is the church organist. A total of 21 women participated in the campaign to raise the money.

13th Player Arrested for Game 'Fixes'

NEW YORK, (AP)—Another former college basketball star was arrested today in the big game-fixing scandal.

Hogan said that Lippman had been a teammate of Edward Card and Nathan Miller, two other former LIU players who are among 12 present and past basketball players under arrest in the bribery plot.

Louis Lippman, 26-year-old former Long Island university cage player, was charged with accepting a bribe. He is the 13th player or former player to be involved.

He was accused of having helped fix the outcome of a game between LIU and Duquesne university of Pittsburgh Jan. 1, 1949. Lippman's arrest was announced one day after he was returned here from Florida for questioning.

District Atty. Frank S. Hogan said after questioning Lippman that two more alleged bribers of college players have been brought in to the investigation.

He did not name them. He said Lippman received only $300 for his part in the fix of the game with Duquesne, played in Madison Square Garden Jan. 1, 1949, and won by Duquesne 64 to 55.

Bevin Back on Job

LONDON, (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin returned to work today after a lengthy illness.

Former Prisoners of Reds Tell of Communist 'School'

BATTLE CREEK, Mich.—(AP)—Five soldiers back from Korea told today how Chinese Reds captured them and sent them to "school" to teach them about Communism.

Now frostbite casualties at Percy Jones general hospital, the soldiers said the Chinese finally escorted them back to American lines with orders to tell their buddies what they learned.

"They thought they could indoctrinate us with the 'good word,'" said Sgt. 1/c James L. Ridgeway, 21, of Mt. Vernon, Ill.

"But the propaganda was so damned obvious that nobody would believe it."

All five are now patients at Percy Jones.

Captured New Year's Day They were with the 19th regiment of the 24th Infantry division when captured on New Year's day. The Communists took them to a drab little building near Seoul, the soldiers related, and kept them there for several days.

At first the building was cold and the food skimpy.

But when the "school" started after a few days, the Chinese made them more comfortable, heating the building and stepping up their soybean and rice rations.

"We were treated as well as you could expect," said Ridgeway. "We weren't harmed physically. The only work we did was mostly on our own."

Got Morning Lecture Every morning from 9 to 11, the soldiers said, five Communist officers would lecture them about "the war-mongering, Wall Street inspired, dirty capitalistic UN forces."

In the afternoons they attended discussion periods—about the benefits of Communism.

As home work, they were expected to read pro-Communist English language newspapers printed in Shanghai.

There were a total of 34 other UN soldiers at the school—31 Americans and three Australians.

Sent to North Korea "We all went along and didn't argue," Sgt. Ridgeway said. "Except for one master sergeant. He talked back. The Chinese said: 'We're going to educate you.' He got sent up to North Korea."

After 27 days of "education," the Chinese suddenly moved the soldiers from the school and escorted them back to American lines, handing them surrender leaflets. It was on this trip that the soldiers suffered frostbite.

Treated at first in Japan, the soldiers were flown here. The indoctrination didn't have much effect, the patients related.

"It was just a lot of hokum," they said.

County Red Cross Drive On; 300 Volunteers in Campaign

A corps of 300 volunteer workers will lead a Lee county Red Cross drive toward a goal of $12,000, Fund Chairman A. H. Nichols said today.

Nichols said that because of the critical national and international situations, Red Cross needs "are greater than last year's."

Eugene Barrowman, 421 E. McKinney St., was listed as the first 1951 Red Cross contributor.

Dixonsites assisting in the drive are George Nichols, business division; Ken Mall, industrial division; Mrs. John Culley, North Side residential chairman, and Mrs. Martin Tayman, South Side residential chairman.

Those in the county are John McGowan, Amboy; Everett Barnes, Amboy township; Miss Mary Charters, Ashton; Mrs. Irene Gonigan, Hamilton township; Mrs. Arthur Schafer, China township; Mrs. Frances Hockman, Nachusa township; Mrs. Charles Hank, South Dixon township; Mrs. Hamilton Risetter, Willow Creek; Miss Bertha Goble, Wyoming; J. M. Sandrock, Reynolds; John Finn, Marion; Oscar Hasselberg, Lee Center; William J. Kranov, Harmon; A. C. Rapp, Alto township; Arthur Chaon, Compton; Oliver Gehant, West Brooklyn; Mrs. Louis Flock, Palmyra, and A. C. Higby, Dixon township.

This Explains Shipment of Ordnance Corn

DECATUR, (AP)—A one-cent increase in the price per bushel of government-owned surplus corn stored in Illinois was announced yesterday.

Howard Abbott, Illinois committeeman of the U. S. Production and Marketing Administration, said it will be sold on a price ranging from $1.64 to $1.71 a bushel, depending on the location of the stored corn, or the current market price being bid by the elevator nearest the storage sites, whichever is highest.

Price Varies The price range varies from county to county and is based on the corn rate loan plus 20 cents a bushel. In February, the price was based on the loan rate plus 19 cents a bushel.

Abbott said the state has approximately 47,000,000 bushels of surplus corn stored in country bin sites available for sale.

It is available for sale to livestock feeders, feed manufacturers, elevators and other feed users.

Ship to Terminals This is part of the 66,480,000 bushels on hand in December. Of that total, he said 408,700 bushels were sold to feeders and other eligible buyers. The Credit Corporation has an order for 2,000,000 bushels to be shipped to terminals for storage or export.

The remaining 17,000,000 bushels have been withdrawn from the surplus corn sales market by the government as Illinois' share of a 100,000,000 bushel national corn reserve for possible national defense needs.

War in 3 Years CANBERRA, AUSTRALIA. (AP)—Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies said today Australia must be prepared for war within three years and should gauge her defense plans accordingly.

Three writers and a motion picture executive have been honored for their efforts in furthering better understanding among all peoples.

Authors John Hersey, Willard Motley and Arthur Koestler, and Film Producer Spyros Skouras were presented with awards at a "Salute to the Arts" banquet last night by the Philadelphia Fellowship commission. Some 800 persons attended.

The citations were the commission's third annual human relations award.

Hersey was cited for his books, "The Wall," "Hiroshima," and "A Bell For Adano." Koestler's for "Darkness at Noon." And Motley for "Knock On Any Door."

Skouras was commended for films such as "Pinky," "Gentlemen's Agreement," and "No Way Out," all produced by his film company.

The air force disclosed yesterday it is hastening into the building of B-52s, short-cutting the usual practice of trying experimental models before ordering a new plane put on the production line.

First of these big jets is expected to be delivered this year. At the same time, it has ordered construction of two all-jet versions of the giant B-36, these to have the swept-back wings which give airplanes greater speed.

The air force decided to "jump" into production of the B-52 because that plane is much like the smaller B-47 and thus the air force has had experience with the type. Air Secretary Thomas K. Finletter said. He gave no dimensions, performance characteristics or other data on the B-52, except to say the B-52 "is a bigger, a considerably bigger B-47." Both are being built by Boeing.

The B-47 has a gross weight of 125,000 pounds and can carry a normal bomb load of 10 tons. It is powered with six jets. One of the early models of the B-47 stratojet flew across the continent at an average speed of 607 miles an hour.

Army Lists Polo GI as Wounded In Korean War

A Defense department casualty list today carried the name of a private first class from Polo.

According to the report, Pfc. Joseph A. Buckman was wounded in Korea. He's the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Buckman, Rt. 3, Polo.

No details of Buckman's wounds were available.

Oregon Vote Cloud Lifts; Two Withdraw

OREGON—The haze of political confusion has cleared from the mayoralty race here and the slate of candidates for commissioners has been decided if no one now on the ticket now withdraws.

Candidates for mayor of Oregon in the April election will be John H. McGuire, incumbent, and Eugene Martin, Charles Mongan, who tied with Martin with six write-in votes, withdrew from the battle when results of the official vote canvass were made known yesterday afternoon.

In the race for commissioner Irvin Kapperman who received two write-in votes tying with Neil Allen decided also to drop out of the race. With Kapperman out of the contest the spring ballot steadiest to two mayoralty candidates and eight for commissioner.

However, Allen has not decided if he will run. If he withdraws from the contest and even more involved problem will arise. The eighth candidate then will have to be one of several who received only one write-in vote, according to City Clerk Evelyn Burright.

Mongan, who dropped out of the race for mayor also received three write-ins for commissioner and will run on the slate. He was a commissioner previously but has not been in office for four years, Mrs. Burright said.

Heifrich was arrested Feb. 20 in connection with an accident on Chicago avenue near the city limits in which a truck with 1,000 gallons of milk tipped over. The truck was driven by Clarence Sword, Ashton. Heifrich was represented by James Bales.

U. of I. Reaches 83rd Birthday
URBANA, (AP)—The University of Illinois reached its 83rd birthday today.
When the first class met March 2, 1868, 50 students gathered in a single building. Today it was 20,000 students spread over three campuses, the main one at Urbana and Champaign; the health sciences professional units in Chicago, and the Chicago undergraduate division.
Since the University opened, 200,000 students have been educated there. Extension courses and services, in addition, extend to all parts of Illinois. The current cost to the Illinois taxpayer is $3.14 a person a year.

OUR OWN BACKYARD
Editor, The Wall Street Journal:
I have just finished reading the article "Economy Inertia" by Alan Otten (Feb. 9). I wish to congratulate you for printing such an apt, comprehensive article.
I have been wondering why we taxpayers don't go on strike and sit for an hour each day writing letters to our duly elected members of Congress stressing the unholly expenditures made by all branches of government. I for one am sick at heart when considering the eternal corruption, waste and bungling going on in government.
There is more greed, graft, bungling and lawful banditry in politics than any other profession. And we the taxpayers are responsible for much of what goes on in politics.
I say let's clean up our own backyard before we try to tell the world how to wash its dirty linen.

L. A. Flu Wave
LOS ANGELES, (AP)—City Health Officer George M. Uhl says approximately 80,000 residents have influenza-like diseases but the onset has not reached epidemic proportions.
The total is about four per cent of the city population and is double the number affected at any one time in the last two months. But it is far below the 10 per cent hit by virus X here three years ago.

YOU MAY BE DEAF!

Test Yourself!

Although only a specialist can scientifically determine the type and amount of hearing loss, answering the following questions may give you a clue as to whether your hearing is up to normal.

Write Yes or No

- Do you find people seem to be "mumbling" or stirring their words when they talk to you?
- Do you hear better in noisy places than in quiet ones?
- Are you bothered by head noises or "ringing" in the ears?
- Do harsh loud noises seem actually painful?
- Do you find that, at one moment, you cannot hear someone speaking to you, and at the next, they seem to be shouting?
- Can you hear the sound of a voice but find it difficult or impossible to understand what is being said?
- Do you seem to hear better with one ear than the other?
- When a group of people are talking, do you seem to have trouble hearing?
- Do you have trouble hearing when going to church, listening to the radio, television, or when seeing a movie... do you have trouble hearing your children, grandchildren?

If your answer to any one of the above questions is "Yes," you may have more than one question, your hearing is probably impaired. In either case, you should send for the FREE book "New Discoveries to Help the Deaf Hear" or see your local Bellone Hearing Service Consultant at

Pope Pius XII Is 75 Today

VATICAN CITY, (AP)—Gold and white banners of the Vatican state were flown today to honor a double anniversary of Pope Pius XII—that of his birthday and his election to the papacy.

The Pope was 75 years old today. Just 12 years ago—on his birthday—he was elected Pope, the 261st in the history of the Catholic church.

While greetings from many parts of the world began to arrive at the Vatican, the pontiff—as he has in the past 12 years—followed his routine schedule of work.

THE SWIVEL BRIGADE OUTFITS ITSELF

Chicago—If any doubt remains in the public mind that the office of price stabilization is totally unnecessary, and is only a cheap political means of lining up Democratic henchmen and their votes, consider this fact: With government offices and warehouses bulging with usable extra office furniture, quite a few late model extra typewriters and the like, the OPS is purchasing an entirely new lot of the very latest office furniture and equipment in order that its administrators throughout the country can live their business (?) day in the style to which they (or Mr. Truman) have made themselves accustomed. As usual, the "big fellows" get the biz.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

I believe this earth on which we stand is but the vestibule to glorious mansions through which a moving crowd forever press.—Joanna Baillie.

Political Problems Stymie Rearming Of Germany

Not so many weeks ago the American reading his daily newspaper would have gathered that the western world was unlikely to survive if the rearming of Germany did not occur in a short space of months.

Now, suddenly, the urgency has gone out of the issue. Apparently a change of heart has been quietly taking place among U. S. officials for some time. But it took General Eisenhower's visit to Germany to crystallize the new view and give it the status of formal policy.

What the general said in his report to congress and the nation was that a host of political questions relating to Germany remains to be settled before a new German army can be created as part of the general European defense force.

This meant, plainly, that we have not yet succeeded in convincing the Germans themselves that they should rearm. In our concern over selling the idea to a reluctant France, we have tended to take German willingness to arm entirely for granted.

But the Germans have no wish to be a doormat in a war between the West and the Soviet Union. They are hanging back, waiting for evidence that there is to be a really effective western defense force which might hold western Germany against invasion. Satisfied on that score, they may eventually decide to join the West.

The Bonn government, furthermore, wants to be accepted into the western family on an equality basis, not as an inferior. The Germans are the conquered enemy of World War II, and as such can't normally expect any favors. But we want something from them—soldiers and equipment—and we can't get it without giving something in return.

Eisenhower is only being realistic when he declares these problems must be settled before a German force is revived. It seems to be on sound ground, too, when he stresses that the No. 1 job is to get the European army into being. When that is a fact and not a dream, it will be time enough to consider incorporating German units. For the French, British and other westerners, plus a fair proportion of Americans, must necessarily comprise the bulk of a European army.

The earlier stress on the need for German strength was in many ways misleading. You got the idea the Germans would just about be the backbone of the force, though at no time has any military leader talked of more than 150,000 Germans in that army.

It is hard to see how 150,000 Germans could be the difference between success or failure in stemming a Russian advance westward. Some experts now believe this impression arose from the conviction of certain military men that nobody but the Americans and Germans could be counted on to do any real fighting.

That conviction appears to have been altered by more recent evidence of Europe's reviving spirit, particularly in France. Millions of anti-Red workers, political refugees and others form a solid core that can be expected to fight courageously.

Utilizing these potential soldiers is the first order of business on the military front. Meantime, the question of Germany's rearmament should be relegated to the political arena. And Washington and Bonn ought to lose no time in digging into the vexing problems still unsolved.

Light That Guides

In a world dominated in so many areas by the faithless and the godless, it is heartening to hear that faith still can play a role in crucial events.

Many businessmen and political figures of late have given public evidence of their reliance upon religious faith in their approach to each trying day.

A typical example is Federal Judge Harold Medina, who presided at the trial which saw the conspiracy conviction of 11 top U. S. Communists. Medina said the other day that he sought strength in prayer during the long, grueling ordeal. "As I got weaker and weaker... I sought strength from the one source that never fails," he said.

Men of little faith in the Kremlin, please note.

Some metals, such as iron, steel, and nickel, are called paramagnetic by scientists, meaning that they are attracted by magnets; others are diamagnetic, which means having weak magnetic properties.

A method has been devised for making concrete in which air bubbles take the place of sand. The air concrete is particularly promising for the construction of walls and roofs of farm buildings.

By painting the upper half of fuselages with a finish which reflects the sun's heat, the temperature inside passenger planes has been reduced by as much as 10 to 15 degrees during airport stops.

The most delicate balance yet made by man uses a beam of light to measure weight. Instead of the conventional scales, it suspends the article to be weighed by suspending magnets.

Production of most electrical appliances in the United States decreased in 1949, but television receiver output rose 180 per cent.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—How much western land is devoted to Indian reservations today?
A—Approximately 55,000,000 acres in 17 western states.

Q—Is the population of the United States still increasing?
A—Yes. Recent studies of population trends indicate the U. S. will have from 163,000,000 to 185,000,000 people by 1975.

Q—What percentage of U. S. crops are raised on irrigated lands?
A—They represent only nine or 10 per cent of the total value of all farm products, but include some important ones. Irrigation farming produces three-fourths of our sugar beets, one-third of our alfalfa hay and one-fourth of all our potatoes.

Q—What produces the brilliant colors of moths and butterflies?
A—The brilliant colors are due to their covering of scales. If the wings are rubbed, the colored scales come off in the form of dust or powder. The scales lap over each other like the scales of a fish.

Q—In what languages are the New Mexico election ballots printed?
A—English and Spanish.

She and Crosby have been married five months. He is a Washington realtor.

What's RIGHT?

You go into a home where there is a small child.

WRONG: In order to show your friendliness, make a fuss over the child, insisting that he come and sit by you or sit on your lap.

RIGHT: Speak to the child and smile at him, but don't rush him. Most children like to make up with an adult gradually and may be frightened if a stranger forces the issue.

Westbrook Pegler

Pegler Admits He's Not Divine or Superhuman; He Bleeds When He's Wounded by Editorial on His Poetry

Contrary to a thought that has made substantial progress, I am not divine nor even superhuman. I bleed when cut, and pine when my feelings are hurt. And so, a week ago, I went to my window, which looks upon the beautiful desert, and sat brooding like some poor wounded thing when I had a nasty note from Mr. Johnson, of Tampa, an editor, who subscribes to these pastorals, condemning my poetry as trash. That is the word he used. My cowboy lament, suitable for electrical banjo, was trash! Was that fair editorial comment or was it bigotry? I inclined to the latter view. I am learning that bigotry is at the bottom of all unpleasantness that befalls me these days. If I miss a train, the conductor who saw me running down the platform is a bigot in his secret heart.

But consolation came today in the mail from Los Angeles. It said:

"Dear Mr. Pegler:

"After reading your recent cowboy poem, I felt as Keats said he felt when he first glimpsed the Grecian urn. Your poem is bound to be a classic. It establishes you, at once, as the Frederic Remington of verse.

"Have you ever ridden the range? I know that you have ridden the Roosevelt family for years. But the range? The prairie sweeps, where the purple sage grows? You must have done so, for every word of your poem breathes the clean, free beauty of the west.

"I always have regarded you as an essayist. But now you are the laureate of the tumbleweed and cow-grass country. Perfection of meter and excellence of rhyme-scheme are seen in your cowboy ode.

"Anyone who has lived among the cowpokes of God's country will thrill to the realistic, though highly imaginative, picture-poetry you have conjured. Please give us more of it. You already have won the Pulitzer prize for your journalistic achievements. Why not try for the poetry award also?

"The world needs cowboy verse of a high degree of lyricism more today than ever before. And you are the one to supply it. There are no cowboy Communists, and the reason for this is that they sing lovely songs. And when your poem is set to music, as it will be, it will be sung to the accompaniment of ten thousand steel guitars.

"There was pathos as well as jubilant beauty in your tuneful line, and old and hardened as I am, it brought a nostalgic tear to my eye. I thought back to old Wyoming and my old pardos of the saddle and I only wish that Thad, and Zeke, and T-Bone Joe, and you?

Jacoby on Canasta
Good Laws Stay on the Books

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When the new International Canasta Code was issued recently by the American and Argentine commissions, certain laws were changed, and others were left unaltered. I have spent several columns discussing the changes, and it is now time to talk about the laws that we decided not to change.

In a few parts of the country some players like to follow the rule that a card that matches a closed canasta is a "stop" card like a black three. This is not the official rule and never has been. Let's go over this point to make it perfectly clear. Suppose you have already closed a canasta of jacks. The pack is not frozen, and the player at your right discards a jack. Are you allowed to pick it up?

Yes. You may pick up that jack and add it to your canasta. Then you may put the rest of the discarded pile in your hand.

That is the official rule and always has been the rule. Don't believe anybody who tells you that a new rule has taken its place.

However, let's not go overboard on this point. This is a free country and anybody who wants to follow an unofficial rule has a perfect right to do so.

So if you and your friends want to play a card that matches a closed canasta as a stop card, go ahead and do so. Some people like the game better that way, and I heartily approve of people playing any game the way they like it.

Many people have asked me why all the good players are in favor of the official rule. That is simple:

"All of us," says Andre Maurois, "from time to time, need a plunge into freedom and novelty, after which routine and discipline will seem delightful by contrast." That is a masculine need that many wives do not fully understand.

Such wives complain about their husband's hunting or fishing trips, when, in reality, they should be glad that their men can fulfill their need for freedom from routine in such a harmless fashion.

Other wives can't understand why a husband wants his wife to go away with him for a weekend occasionally when the cost of such little trips would buy something substantial for the house. What they don't see is that a man may need to get away from home responsibilities, from work, and from the sameness of every-day routine far more than he needs new possessions.

WOMEN NEED A CHANGE OF SCENE, TOO

Women, actually, need a change just as much as men do. But they aren't as quick to recognize the need. They may feel that life is dull and boring and that they are going stale—without realizing that a pleasant break in the routine of their lives would be well worth the cost in time, money, and effort.

So don't belittle that need in your husband for an occasional "plunge into freedom" and don't overlook it in yourself. Just because you are married there is no

IN HOLLYWOOD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Hollywood.—(NEA)—There's no movie comeback cooking for Rosemary Lane of the famous Lane sister trio who made pre-war movie headlines.

Rosemary, now the wife of UI make-up boss Buddy Westmore, debunks the career- and - happy marriage idea with:

"You can't run a home and raise children and be in on what the children do and have a career too."

The Lane sisters — Rosemary, Priscilla and Lola—crashed the screen in "Four Daughters," with Gale Paige. Their last film together was "Four Mothers." With the exception of Lola, all took the title seriously.

Rosemary has a five-year-old daughter, Bridget. Priscilla just had her second baby and Gale has four children.

Katharine Hepburn and William Prince, her leading man in "As You Like It," aren't speaking off-stage. The feud started at a party when Kate challenged Bill to a wrestling match in front of the other guests. Kate lost the match. Why not team her with Gorgeous George?

Renzo Cesana, who played the priest who advised Ingrid Bergman on her love life in "Strömholm," has a new job—keeping "blind" dates with lonesome gals via a Los Angeles radio station. ... Helene Miller's come-as-the-movie-star-you-hate-the-most party turned up a surprise. Starlet Odette Myrtil came as herself.

John Carroll's night club singing style, first revealed at the Shamrock hotel in Houston a month ago, is the talk of show business. He has $100,000 worth of singing contracts in his pocket for 1951.

NEW TWIST
"Oliver Twist," the English movie which hit the censors in the wrong place, will be released in the U. S. minus about 750 feet. The deletions were made to comply with the Hollywood censorship code.

The Andrews Sisters have abandoned their idea of appearing in a Broadway version of "Flying Down to Rio." Demands of RKO and the Vincent Youmans estate killed the project. ... There's talk of another "Two Guys" movie for Dennis Morgan and Jack Carson. "Two Guys From Detroit" is ready for the cameras.

Now it's Gorgeous Joe, the 115-pound wrestling chimpanzee.

The World Jungle Compound—home of movie animals—books Joe with human opponents and bills him as "stronger than six men with hair on his chest and everywhere else."

Shirley Temple's new husband, pineapple heir Charles Black, is set for a return to the Navy as a lieutenant commander. ... MGM will retitle "The Red Badge of Courage" for an obvious reason.

Picow, an amazing quick sketch artist, doesn't reach for a mind eraser when you ask him how movie stars act when he's profiling them. Johnny Weissmuller, he claims, insisted on posing in a tree—with a knife in one hand and a bottle in the other. He had to catch Sonny Tufts, he says, "between swallows." More conventional posers were the children of Alice Faye and Betty Grable.

REAL SUBS
Dorothy Kirsan, posing for one of those beer advertisements, made a startling discovery—they put soapuds on top of the beer to make it photogenic. ... They're now called "Santa Monica—not Moscow—Mules" at a local restaurant.

They're whipping up the life story of Helen Morgan at Warner's, so I asked Rouben Mamoulian, who directed Helen in "Applause," about the Dinah Shore of the Roaring Twenties.

He told me:

"Helen was beautiful and one of the rarest human beings on earth. We filmed 'Applause' at Paramount's Astoria studio in 1929. It was my first motion picture. There was a young actress in it whose hair kept falling over her face. Any other star would have been delighted. But as the camera turned, I suddenly saw Helen put out her hand and push back the girl's hair and hold it.

"That was Helen Morgan for you.

"She played a strip-teaser in the picture. The censors cut it to ribbons, but there was still plenty left of Helen's strip. She was a beautiful dame."

reason to assume that you and your husband never need a change of scenery and a chance to leave responsibility behind now and then.

Marriage can go mighty stale for the couple that never gives in to the urge for a little novelty and change and momentary freedom from responsibility.

VOICE of the PEOPLE

PIRE'S ASSISTANTS
March 2

Editor of The Telegraph,
Dear Sir:

I have read with considerable interest an article in your newspaper Wednesday in the "Voice of the People" column, signed by L. D. Hemenway, Supervisor of Alto township and former Chairman of the Board of Supervisors. It interested me personally for the reason that he refers to and I quote, "the false statements and inferences printed in your newspaper relative to the appointment of Henry C. Warner, Warren H. Badger and George F. Nichols as Assistant State's Attorneys create an unfair impression so far as these gentlemen and the Board of Supervisors of Lee County are concerned."

The reason I am writing this is because for two years I was employed by you as your City Editor and in that position had opportunity to observe the works and goings on of various political bodies such as the City Council, County Board, and public officials. Some time ago The Telegraph revealed that Henry C. Warner and other members of his law firm have served as Assistant State's Attorneys to Mr. Pires. This is a matter of record. However, I have been wondering just when Mr. Warner or some other member of his firm would attempt to justify their appointments to Mr. Pires' staff. The letter purporting to have been written by Mr. Hemenway in last night's Telegraph tries to explain how the Assistant State's Attorneys, including Mr. Warner, were not paid anything, except Mr. Nichols. I think if you will check your back records of The Telegraph you will find that no one had even mentioned the subject of pay.

What is involved, however, is the question of professional ethics. There is a specific case in point which I, as City Editor, had hoped to bring out at some time or other, but the opportunity never presented itself until today.

Let's look at a specific case.

On October 18, 1950, a warrant was issued for the arrest of one Howard Sweitzer, who had been employed for a period of several years, by the day, by Henry C. Warner. Let's keep in mind, of course, that Mr. Pires was at one time a member of the law firm of Warner & Warner. Sweitzer was charged with having violated a statute for failure "to yield the right of way." An arrest ticket was delivered to him by Arlyn E. Waite, Highway Police Officer, directing him to appear before Sterling Schrock Jr., a Justice of the Peace, at 12 noon on October 19, 1950.

Mr. Sweitzer appeared, with his attorney, George F. Nichols. Now let's keep in mind that Mr. Nichols is a member of Mr. Warner's law firm, his son-in-law, and he was also Assistant State's Attorney and still is. Sweitzer and his attorney, George F. Nichols, demanded an immediate trial. At the request of State's Attorney, Morey C. Pires, the case was continued until 2:15 in the afternoon of the same day. At the specified time that same day Mr. Morey C. Pires appeared as a representative of the State of Illinois and Mr. Sweitzer, the defendant, appeared with his attorney, Mr. George F. Nichols, Assistant State's Attorney.

Here is a case where the State's Attorney of Lee County, Illinois, appears as prosecuting attorney and his own assistant on his own staff, appears as the defendant's attorney. It appears to me that if the Warner law firm had been retained by Mr. Sweitzer to represent him the ethical thing would have been for some other member of the law firm besides Mr. Nichols, who is Pires' Assistant State's Attorney, to defend him. In my two years as City Editor of The Dixon Evening Telegraph, never did I see anything quite like that. Here is George F. Nichols, who in most cases of that kind would probably prosecute the case, sitting along side of his superior, Morey C. Pires, defending a man that Pires is prosecuting!!!

Just for the record let's quote the actual docket entry, of which I have a photostatic copy, and it is on page 252 of the Justice's Docket if anyone wants to confirm or check it and I quote:

"10/19/50 12:00 A. M. Defendant this day appeared in person and by his attorney, George F. Nichols, entered a plea of not guilty, demanded immediate trial. On motion of State's Attorney case continued to 2:15 P.M."

"10/19/50 2:15 P.M. This case now coming on for hearing. Present the State's Attorney; George F. Nichols for defendant. Defendant and state police officer, Arlyn E. Waite. Hearing held. Officer Waite sworn and testified and cross-examined. Only witness produced. Defendant demanded a finding of not guilty. Upon recommendation of State's Attorney, case dismissed."

Now let Mr. Warner, Mr. Pires and Mr. Hemenway laugh that off. In the action, the defendant, Sweitzer, by his attorney, George F. Nichols, demanded a finding of not guilty. Upon recommendation of State's Attorney Morey C. Pires, the case was dismissed.

The Doctor Answers
Deformed Child Needs Will to Overcome Handicap

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

It is entirely possible for a child born with a club foot, a harelip, a cleft palate or some other inborn malformation to rise to heights of fame and indeed to receive national and international acclaim. This has been done in many fields of human endeavor and speaks well for the ability of man to rise in the face of adversity.

The conditions mentioned and several other physical variations from normal are present at birth and naturally come as a great shock to the parents. All, or most of them, are the result of incomplete development inside the womb of the mother and are not really inherited.

What causes them has been quite mysterious and is still not entirely clear although it now seems that infection of the mother with German measles while she is carrying the child and possibly other things greatly increases the likelihood of this sort of trouble. Anyway, it's a mighty good idea for prospective mothers to dodge exposure to infections and particularly German measles just as carefully as possible.

A new-born baby with a harelip or club foot almost certainly does not suffer any pain. But the parents are actually distressed. A whole lot of questions come up at once; is it their fault, what can be done for it, will it interfere with the child's physical or mental development, how likely is it to happen again with other children?

No, it is not the fault of the parents. There is nothing they could have done to prevent it. What can be done later is something else. A lot can be done for harelip, cleft palate, club foot and some of the other congenital malformations, especially if they are attacked early enough.

For this reason it is wise to consult someone who knows about them even if manipulation, casts, or operation, is put off for a few months or so. The more that can be done, of course, the less will be the interference with the child's normal development.

ODDS ARE WEIGHTY
As to the chances of having a later child with a congenital defect one has to deal with figures. The parents of one malformed child have about seven chances in eight that the next child will be normal. Taking all births, a congenital defect occurs only about once in 213.

From the physical standpoint the disadvantages can often be largely overcome by modern methods. It is just as important to battle the mental effects, and in this the sympathetic understanding of parents, teachers and the rest of us help greatly. But the will to overcome obstacles on the part of the youngster himself is the most important.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

Bill to Increase Pay of DA's Hits Floor of House

SPRINGFIELD, (AP)—Legislation to increase salaries of state's attorneys in downstate counties reached the floor of the Illinois house Thursday.

The judiciary committee recommended the bill for passage yesterday after tacking on amendments reducing pay boosts for prosecutors in larger counties.

Enactment of the legislation would peg annual salaries at from $3,000 to $10,000, depending on county population. Instead of $3,000 to $11,500 as originally proposed. The present maximum is $8,000.

Claim US Ruining British Morals

LONDON, (AP)—Home Secretary Chuter Ede has ordered a country-wide drive against indecent publications. They are said to be mostly of American origin.

They are reprinted by small-town printers in this country, and are believed to be circulated through a lending library which spreads indecent literature throughout Britain. Some of the books are typewritten and leave little to the imagination.

Traffic in indecent literature and pictures is said to have had a startling increase in the past two years.

North Central Fourth Grades Present Show

The fourth grades of North Central school, taught by Miss Elizabeth Stuck and Mrs. Esther Appler, presented a joint program during the February assembly, Wednesday afternoon, honoring the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln. Larry Rosenberg acted as announcer and Patty Eghert presided at the piano during the singing of the National Anthem. The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was given by the entire group, accompanied by Choral reading explaining each phrase of the salute as it was recited.

The Lincoln tableau was presented in seven scenes depicting events in the life of Lincoln: (Patricia Doctor acting as narrator).

I. Lincoln's mother—Sharon Donoho.

II. Lincoln's mother, Janet Rosebrook; Abraham, Victor Eichler; Sarah, Nancy Gardner; "Lincoln, the Youth."

III. Family scene: Larry Braun, Bob Hargrave, Judy Leer, Jeannie Lahey, Sue Cross, John McLane and Judy Spellmeyer.

IV. Abe Lincoln in early teens, Charles Haynes.

V. Abe Lincoln as a young man, Gerald Sproul; customer, Carolyn Coas.

VI. Lincoln and his bride, Don Majors and Roberta Reeder.

VII. Lincoln's Farewell to Springfield—Lincoln, Richard Hopper; Mrs. Lincoln, Louise Joyce; Robert Lincoln, John Wickler; William Lincoln, Dean Thomas; Tad Lincoln, Carol Lee Horton.

Washington Play
In the play, "George Washington in Person," the main character was played by George Nichols, while two children, Mary and John (played by Judy Schreiner and Jim Palmer) standing near and admiring their country's flag, dreamed that the Father of their Country came in person and talked to them.

Colonial flags were made and displayed by Stuart Keeley, Sandra Harvey, Harriet Fordyce, Nadine Nelson, John McLane, John Cuiley, Larry Braun, Louise Wolf, Jeannie Lahey, Sandra Taylor, David Walker, Patricia Fritz, Sharon Wagner, Ann Bastian, Julia Weitzel, Karl McCordie, Bill Gardner and Lynn Vrogendewey. Shields and large silhouettes of Washington and Lincoln made by Janet Rosebrook and Sandra Taylor formed an appropriate background for the program. The "Colonial Song" accompanied by Judy Spellmeyer was followed by a choral reading, "The Flag Speaks," with Rebecca Reeder as soloist. A Latvian song was given by Ruta Kadikis in her native tongue.

Entertainment in honor of Washington took the form of athletic events in which dancing and tumbling were featured. Participants in the colonial dances were: Carolyn Coas, Patricia Doctor, Sharon Donoho, Ronald Gaul, Ruta Kadikis, Richard Hopper, Janice Krug, Jeannie Lahey, Judy Leer, Karl McCordie, Louise Wolf, Sandra Taylor, John Cuiley, Victor Eichler, Sally Uttley, Carol Lee Horton, Judy Schreiner, Judy Spellmeyer, Gerald Sproul, Lynn Vrogendewey and David Walker. Tumbler were: Rickey Rorer, Janet Wolf, David Wilson, Ann Bastian, Dean Thomas, Nadine Nelson, Sharon Wagner, Larry Rosenberg, Nancy Gardner, Patricia Fritz, James Myers, Patty Eghert, Jim Palmer, John Wickler, Ray Thompson, Janet Rosebrook, Charles Haynes, Louise Joyce, David Tagge, Rebecca Reeder, Roberta Reeder, Larry Braun, Sue Cross, Harriet Fordyce, Bill Gardner, Bob Hargrave, Sandra Harvey, Don Majors and John McLane.

Janice Krug accompanied the group in the song, "Hail to George Washington." The program closed with cast and audience uniting in the singing of "America, the Beautiful," with Janet Wolf at the piano.

See "Penrod"
Following the regular assembly program, members of the skit "Penrod" from Loveland school presented the skit for the North Central student body.

Recently the sixth grades enjoyed a talk on Algeria and France by Mrs. Kenneth Abbott.

Home Bureau Local Leaders Receive Lessons on Cakes

Cakes made by various methods were sampled and judged by ladies attending the Lee County Home Bureau Local leaders training school Wednesday. The all day school held at the Lee County Farm Bureau, Amboy, was attended by 48 women representing the 23 Home Bureau units in the county.

Miss Geraldine Acker, specialist at the University of Illinois, demonstrated making "Shortened Cakes." She demonstrated the conventional cake made by hand and electric mixer and followed this with the quick mix cake which is made all in one bowl.

As they judged the three cakes the local leaders examined texture, flavor and appearance. As they tasted the cakes they scored them on their sheets also deciding a family cake would be the quick mix and for company, they would advise the conventional.

Miss Acker explained to the ladies just how to give this lesson on cakes and the correct utensils and materials to be used.

Dickey Class to Give Play March 4

"A Net is Cast," a temperance play in two scenes by Marion Wefer, will be presented by the Dickey class of the Church of the Brethren at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, March 4. In the cast are: Don Unger, Velva Unger, Darlene Butterbaugh, Keith Law and Joan Utz. Franklin Cline is the director.

An offering will be received to purchase something for Camp Emmaus, the church camp at Mt. Morris.

CHI FELLOWSHIP CLASS
The Chi Fellowship class of the First Christian church will meet at 7:30 p. m. Monday, March 5 in the church parlors for a monthly meeting.

The St. James Ladies Aid will meet Wednesday, March 7 at noon for a scramble dinner with Mrs. Amy Wolfman.

Next time you cook spaghetti make a clam sauce for it instead of the usual meat sauce. You can use the minced clams that come in cans and team them with tomato, or you can add butter or margarine and garlic to them.

Legion Auxiliary Hears Mrs. Malach Speak Wednesday

When the American Legion auxiliary met Wednesday donations were voted to the Friends of Library fund and the Youth Center. President Iva Callahan introduced Mrs. Roman Malach, Americanism chairman for the auxiliary, who gave a talk on "The Youth of America." Following are a few notes from her talk:

"The youth of America have a sacred heritage. Abraham Lincoln dreamed of freedom and equality for all when he spoke of the new nation as being 'conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal'—and that this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom." But there are still many more living and dead who were contributors to America's heritage. They are the soldiers and sailors who have given their last full measure of devotion that this country might live. The youth of America recognize the menace and danger of Communism. It is talked about on the streets and written about in all the current periodicals. The attitude of the youth of America toward Communism will be guided by the heritage they have received from their forefathers, who founded our democratic form of government. There were four great freedoms given to us by the constitution: freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of press and freedom of peaceable assembly and petition to the government for redress of grievances. They have become known as the four great freedoms and they are the very heart and soul of our American way of life. The future of the world lies largely in the hands of young America. They cannot fail. They must foster a reverence for law and authorities and show that reverence always. They must in all things be loyal. True loyalty means respect for our government, readiness to serve it and eagerness to defend it. They must develop attitudes of tolerance toward all nationalities, not intolerance, and work for construction and not destruction. What greater challenge could be given to American boys and girls than to grow into men and women with a will to cherish and preserve our great American heritage and way of living."

Mrs. Stephen Fleming had charge of refreshments, which were served from a beautifully appointed table. The next meeting will be March 14.

Chrysler Profit Down Despite Record Sales

NEW YORK, (AP)—The Chrysler Corporation, with earnings cut last year despite record sales, has been affected along with the entire auto industry by the shift from civilian to military objectives, it reported yesterday.

Its annual report said the net profit of the corporation and its wholly owned United States subsidiaries for the year ended Dec. 31 totaled $127,876,791 equal to $14.69 a share. This compared with a record net profit of $132,170,096 in 1949 or $15.19 on the same number of shares outstanding.

K. T. Keller, board chairman said the immediate future of the automobile industry has been profoundly affected by the defense program.

"Varied, complicated and difficult problems are involved in tooling for quantity production of military items, and in the reallocation of basic strategic materials now in short supply," Keller reported.

Marines Knife Deeper Into Red Defenses

Report Communists Infiltrate Allied Lines in Disguises

TOKYO, March 2, (AP)—Marines swept through abandoned Hoengsong today and stabbed deeper into the heart of Red defenses on the central Korean front.

Communist resistance stiffened all along the Allied line. On the east-central front, Korean Reds wearing South Korean uniforms knifed inside American positions and fought the doughboys hand-to-hand.

Tank-led marines of the First division drove into Hoengsong unopposed at 2:40 p.m. (11:40 p.m. CST) after smashing Chinese Reds in a two-day battle on dominating ridges nearby. Infantrymen followed.

Field dispatches said they found the rubble highway hub littered with the frozen bodies of earlier Allied casualties and scores of wrecked army trucks and jeeps.

Hoengsong, 50 air miles east of Seoul, is in the middle of the mountainous central front. It fell to the Chinese Feb. 12 during a Red counter offensive that failed to crack the Allied line.

Auxiliaries To Aid State, City Officials

Prime Duty Would Be To Curb Panic, Tend to Wounded

CHICAGO, (AP)—Auxiliary police units have been given high priority in plans to deal with any defense emergency in Illinois, such as an enemy aerial attack.

Major Lenox R. Lohr, state civil defense director, said yesterday that creation of the units would Lohr also released plans for a five-fold increase in the state's overall fire fighting personnel, through the recruitment of auxiliaries. The plan calls for mobile support fire teams and units to aid distant stricken areas.

Discussing the police auxiliary plans, Lohr said:

"boost police aid in such an emergency to five times the regular police strength."

No greater duty will fall on the police of the state in event of an attack than the prevention of panic, he said.

"Illinois must have enough regular and auxiliary police officers ready for assignment to prevent looting, identify the dead and establish complete precautionary procedure for public safety where unexploded bombs or other missiles are discovered."

Would Clear Highways

Another major police responsibility, he said, would be the clearing of arterial highways for rescue teams in stricken areas and for evacuation of wounded.

Lohr said the plan is for immediate expansion of state highway police on the basis of two auxiliaries for every regular officer.

Later, he expects the recruiting of five volunteer auxiliaries for every regular policeman in city and other local units.

Headquarters for 14 regional civil defense areas to work with state police already have been established at Chicago, Blue Island, Sterling, Elgin, Joliet, Pontiac, Rock Island, Peoria, Springfield, Urbana, East St. Louis, Effingham Du Quoin and Macomb.

Subject to Call

All auxiliary units will be subject to call for assistance in mutual aid areas, but relief forces in any disaster area would be under direction of the regular police chief there.

The program provides also for mobile support teams, each with three units—eight men to a unit—to be directed by an officer of a regular police force. Each mobile team will carry 24 gas masks and have six automobiles (sedans), three trucks, nine walkie-talkie radios, three public address systems and three flood lights.

Denies He Had RFC Directors In 'Hip Pocket'

Lawyer Admits Asking Big Fee To Save Lustron

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Roy Fruehauf, Detroit industrialist, swore today that Joseph H. Rosenbaum, Washington lawyer, told him in 1949 he had two RFC directors "in his hip pocket."

He said Rosenbaum named directors Walter L. Dunham and William E. Willett.

Fruehauf testified before a senate banking subcommittee which is investigating charges the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, big government lending agency, has yielded to influence in making loans.

Rosenbaum, in an earlier appearance before the group, denied he had ever made the "hip pocket" statement.

Again Denies It

After Fruehauf's testimony, Rosenbaum returned to the witness chair and again denied it. He said he did not even know Dunham and had never talked with him.

Fruehauf said Rosenbaum made the "hip pocket" claim in late 1948 when they were talking about the possibility of averting foreclosure on RFC loans to the Lustron Corporation. He said Rosenbaum wanted to take on the job for a $100,000 fee.

Rosenbaum acknowledges he had asked for a $100,000 fee if he were successful in working out a reorganization that would save Lustron.

Blocked Rescue

"As an attorney," he said, "I am entitled to charge fees."

Fruehauf told the senators that Dunham blocked efforts to rescue Carl G. Strandlund's Lustron corporation from financial collapse only a few hours after a negotiator had withdrawn a $100,000 retainer fee to Rosenbaum.

Strandlund charges, from the witness chair yesterday that Dunham was involved deeply with "financial wolves" he accused of having conspired to strip him of control of Lustron, big prefabricated housing plant at Columbus, O. The plant was financed almost entirely with $37,500,000 borrowed from RFC.

Fruehauf said Fruehauf Trailer Co. had a big financial interest in Lustron's success.

Doubt Big 4 Talks Will Involve Peace

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The State department heavily discounts chances that real "peace talks" with Russia will result from Big Four negotiations beginning in Paris Monday.

Officials here are convinced that what the Soviets want to do in Paris is set the stage for a new diplomatic and propaganda offensive against the Western defense effort if and when the Big Four foreign ministers meet in Washington at a date not yet set.

Ambassador Philip G. Jessup, representing Secretary of State Acheson, his assistants and advisers will fly to Paris tonight.

Jessup will be American spokesman at the Paris meeting with representatives of the British, French and Russian foreign ministers. The Paris session is expected to last about two weeks. Its purpose is to decide on subjects and complete the arrangements for a session of the ministers themselves, probably in April.

Austrian Admits Smuggling Gems With $600,000 Value

NEW YORK, (AP)—An Austrian religious teacher today faced a possible penalty up to four years in prison and $10,000 fine for smuggling diamonds worth $600,000 into the United States.

The defendant, Leiser Weitman, 31, will be sentenced next Friday by Federal Judge Mortimer W. Byers.

Interrupting his trial which was just getting under way in Brooklyn, Weitman changed his plea from innocent to guilty yesterday.

Diamonds worth about $280,000 were found in the hollowed-out heels of his shoes when he was seized at New York International airport as he arrived from Brussels Jan. 21. When he was examined in jail later, $320,000 worth of diamonds were found in his body.

Two similar arrests were made here about the same time, and U. S. Attorney Frank J. Parker said in Brooklyn that a big ring was smuggling in diamonds and smuggling out gold.

OBITUARIES

MRS. CARRIE G. MCCREA ASHTON—Mrs. Carrie Gertrude McCrea, 85, long-time Ashton resident died at her home at 11:20 a.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. McCrea, the former Carrie Schade, was born in Germany Aug. 25, 1865, the daughter of William and Sophia Hildebrand Schade. She came to America as a child. She was married to William B. McCrea Sept. 21, 1887. He preceded her in death.

She is survived by one son, Wesley, Urbana; two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Nichols, Amboy, and Mrs. Evelyn Blank, Chicago; a brother, Carl, Ashton, and two sisters, Emma Schade, Ashton, and Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson, Chicago.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Clats funeral home and at 2 p.m. at the Ashton Methodist church. The Rev. Richard K. Pilgrim will officiate. Burial will be in the Ashton cemetery.

His Version of Plot on Truman

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Oscar Collazo's version of the Blair House shooting last Nov. 1 is that he merely wanted to stage a demonstration and didn't intend to kill anyone.

But government prosecutors in Collazo's first-degree murder trial called a key witness—Secret Service Agent Joseph J. Ellis Jr.—today to offer another version—that Collazo told him he and his accomplice wanted to kill President Truman in the hope of setting off a revolution here to aid Puerto Rican independence.

Both Collazo and Ellis told their stories in federal court yesterday after Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough allowed a defense request that they be permitted to argue—with the jury absent—whether statements made by Collazo to law enforcement officers should be admitted as evidence.

Collazo said he made statements to the officers after the shooting only because they threatened him.

After Collazo and Ellis had taken turns giving different versions of the questioning and Collazo's replies, Judge Goldsborough ruled:

Ellis' testimony—also given in the absence of the jury—could go to the jury as evidence.

What Collazo told questioning officers between 2:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Nov. 1 and his arraignment at 2 p.m. the next day will not be admitted into evidence, Judge Goldsborough ruled. Ellis was ordered back to the witness stand today, this time before the jury.

Someone once said that it is the Rotarians who make the world go 'round! Perhaps this isn't entirely the case, but it is a recognized fact that the men whose emblem is the Wheel of Progress contribute much to America... and, more specifically, to our own city. Always eager to advance business, good fellowship and the general well-being of our community, these reliable Rotarians comprise a group of citizens of whom we're all mighty proud! With all sincerity we applaud their goals and their achievements. The Rotarians do things... in a big way!

Winter Returns to Midwest; Snow, Cold Wave Reported

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter showed no signs of a letup over wide areas of the country today.

A snow storm hit the southwestern and western states as some sections of the Midwest dug out from the heaviest snowfall of the season.

A fresh fall of snow blanketed much of the New England region, but skies were clearing. The fall measured 5 inches at Portland, Me. The snow had ended in the Middle Atlantic states.

Sub-zero cold chilled the north central region and another snow storm was headed for the winter-weary mid-continent.

Snow up to three inches fell over the plateau states and the higher elevations of the central Rockies. The storm moved out of the Pacific coast over Eastern Oregon, Western Idaho and into Nevada, Utah and Northern Arizona. It headed northeastward, temperatures in the snow belt were below freezing as far south as Winslow, Ariz. Rain fell in southern Arizona and parts of California.

The mercury dropped to 17 below zero at Bismarck, N. D., early today as skies cleared over the snow-covered Midwest areas. It was -11 at St. Cloud, Minn., and -9 at Grantsburg, Wis.

Rain fell in the lower Missouri valley but the forecast was for snow and colder in some areas.

Readings were below normal along the Pacific coast. The warm spots were the southeastern and Gulf states. Temperatures were in the 80's in Texas and Florida yesterday. Early today it was 63 in Miami and 65 in Dallas.

Jump Party Lines

LONDON, (AP)—Thirty-two Labor MPs—many of them pacifists—kicked over the traces in the House of Commons last night, seeking to ease the law punishing refusal to answer draft calls. But the Conservatives swung with the government and the amendment was defeated 295 to 34.

Mt. Morris, Rochelle Meet Again

Mounders Seek Regional Title, Win No. 24

Rochelle Defeats St. Thomas, 60-30; Leaf River Loses

ROCHELLE—Mt. Morris and Rochelle were lined up as opponents for the regional championship here today as both teams won semi-final matches Thursday night.

Mt. Morris defeated Leaf River, 50-42, while Rochelle was taking an easy, 60-30, victory from St. Thomas of Rockford.

The two teams will meet Friday night at 8 p.m. in a battle which will decide the Rochelle regional entrant in the East Rockford sectional tourney next week.

In this game, Mt. Morris will be seeking its 22nd win in 23 starts this season and a repeat performance of the 65-45 trouncing it handed Rochelle at Mt. Morris last Saturday night. Thursday's victory over Leaf River was the 16th straight for Coach J. R. Worley's Mounders.

The Mounders showed a well-balanced scoring attack at Leaf River to win handily Thursday. Earl Hanke, Bob Haynes, Bill Egan and Jim Fridley contributed enough points to assure the win. Rochelle was never in doubt as Mal Bushnell and Jan Frisch carded identical 5-5 totals for 15 points each.

Te Huhs led 26-16 at halftime and then led the game with a 15-point third quarter, at the same time holding St. Thomas to a mere four points.

LaGrange Is Upset; Hebron Downs Dundee

(By the Associated Press)

Morton of Cicero, Freeport and some other top rated contenders led 120 teams into regional tournament finals tonight in the Illinois high school basketball title race.

Missing from the survivors were LaGrange and Dundee, highly regarded clubs toppled in Thursday night's semifinals.

The loss by the previously unbeaten LaGrange Lions to Hinsdale was the most startling upset of the tournaments so far. LaGrange had been strongly favored to meet Morton for a regional crown tonight, but instead bowed to Hinsdale in an overtime 45-44. It was the first defeat for LaGrange in all 21 starts this season. During the regular campaign, LaGrange had beaten Hinsdale twice.

Hebron Inspired

Dundee's Cardinals, ranked ninth in the Associated Press poll, couldn't match the inspired play of Hebron's Little Giants and dropped out of the title chase at Elgin, 63-56. The Hebron team will collide with Elgin, 28-20 winner from Crystal Lake, for the Woodstock regional.

Regional winners tonight will qualify for next week's 15 sectional games which will name 15 downstate entries for the championship finals at Champaign March 14-17.

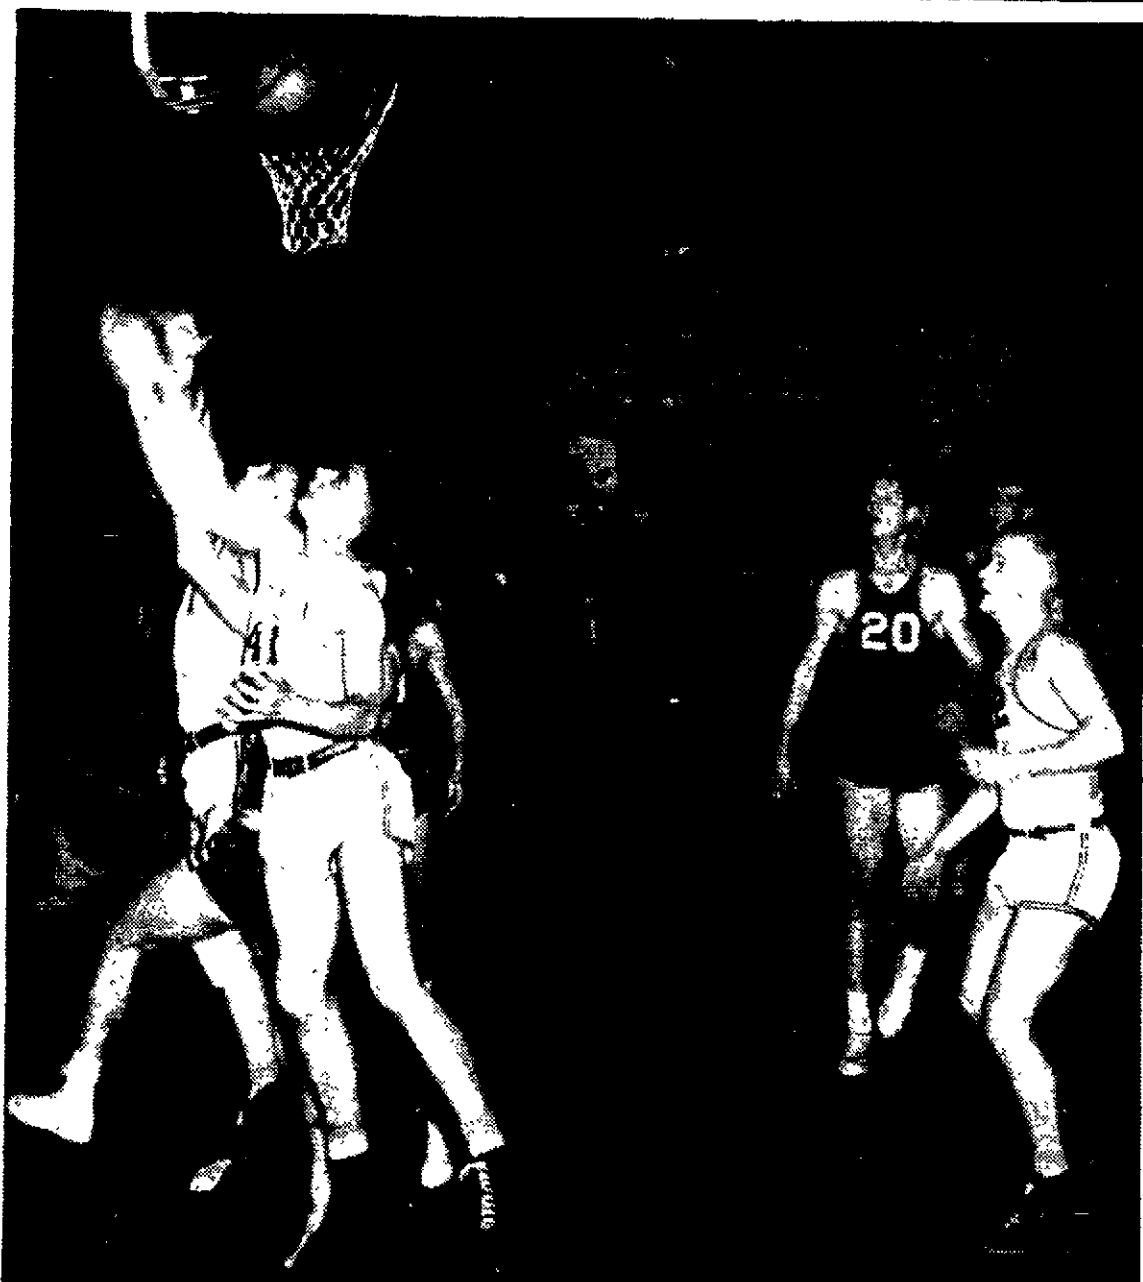

Morton of Cicero expanded its broken string to 22 straight games but the Mustangs met trouble before conquering Riverside, 63-57. The victory put Morton in the regional showdown with Hinsdale.

Rams Still Tough

Mt. Vernon's Rams kept alive their ambitions for a third straight Illinois title by downing Eldorado at McLeansboro, 60-34. The Rams now have to get by Harrisburg, which defeated Carrier Mills, 52-40.

Freeport had no worries with Aquin of Freeport, posting a 74-36 decision for its 24th victory in 26 starts. West Rockford, defeated twice by Freeport during the regular season, furnishes the opposition tonight.

Among tonight games on tap in regional finals are Rock Island vs. Moline, Lincoln vs. Springfield, 63-41.

STERLING'S KEN GREEN (41) goes up for a rebound with an unidentified Dixon player and another Sterling man during the frantic action in the fourth quarter of Thursday night's Dixon-Sterling game. Chuck Cole (22) and Dixon's Jim Mercer (20) look on from behind.

INCLUDING THE KITCHEN SINK—Ready to fulfill a B-29er's pledge to hit the Reds in Korea with "everything, including the kitchen sink," are these two Air Force sergeants. They are attaching bomb fins to the sink to better guide it to the enemy target. At this stage of the game, the stunt still needed approval of the group's armament officer. (Dept. of Defense radiophoto by NEA-Acme Telephoto.)

Carnival By Dick Turner

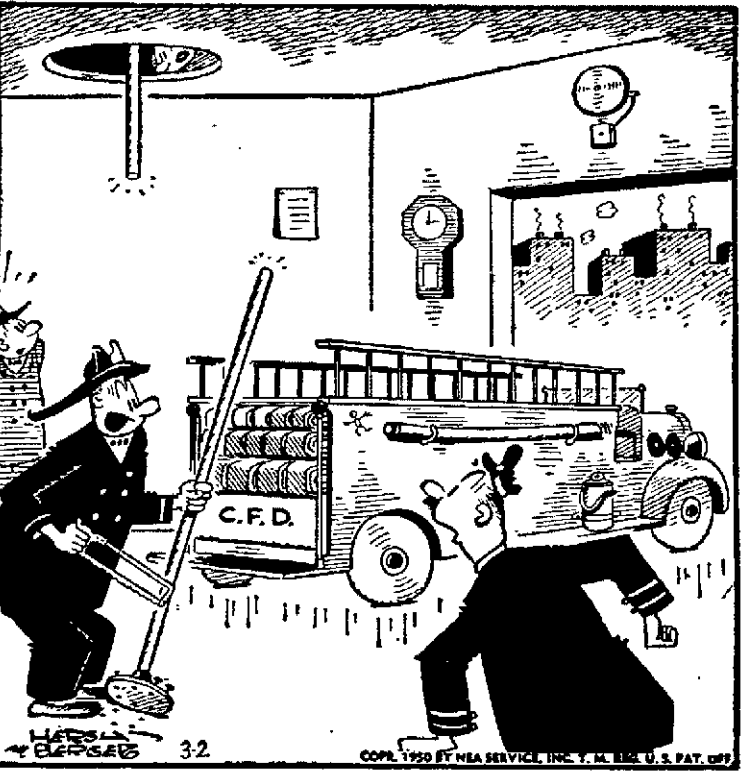

"Okay, so you're a major in the air force! I still say have you got anything on you that says you're 21!"

Side Glances By Galbraith

"This kind of man I like! He either works or loafs with all his might—he doesn't sit around shuffling papers!"

Funny Business By Harshberg

"It speeds up the boys a little on the way down, chief!"
